

We're IT

"The transcendental object - at the end of time - is as much here now as it will be then." - Terence McKenna

That which did not need to be created, is unborn and deathless. This source of immortal life is not a thing. It cannot be divided against its 'Self (anatta)' - as there is no Thing to divide. 'It' (alone) is invariant, indivisibly localizing the nonlocal whole at every dimensionless point-centered process (simultaneously), while re-uniting and re-creating the whole of creation, by witnessing 'it' all - like a mirror receives and reflects faithfully and flawlessly without reacting (choicelessly) with no image or imagination of its own.

We are (in part) form-based facets of this witnessing, re-creating creation in incomparably unique (yet always) interrelated ways.

To be free of identification, attachment, resistance (suffering) and ego-centric 'insanity' - both individually and indivisibly, as a species on this planet - we are inevitably realizing there is no-other-choice but to be nobody going no 'where' in particular while being any-one, everything and some-one - going every 'where' forever - timelessly - as a mirror-like receptive/reflective 'awakening form of awareness' - being-and-becoming conscious. We are unlearning our habits in order to re-learn the singular nature of this 'awakeness', so we (can) intimately share - individually and indivisibly together - the truth that has always promised to set us free.

In this sense, we cannot escape 'the fact' that we are all gods and goddesses sharing the re-creation of creation - in incomparably unique ways - as 'oneder' full innocent/insensitive children, challenged - on purpose - by sentient life; as pivotal parts of its awakening; to populate this cosmos through perceptual activity; evolving and growing more intelligent tele-somatically (as "awareness is pure intelligence" - Eckhart Tolle) via our combined sensitivity.

The "beginning" is 'an eternal now - an eternal flame', localizing the nonlocal whole, as 'it' re-generates and re-presents all-there-is to its selves/Self and no-Self (anatta).

The divinity of love is an undivided awakeness, an instantaneous communion sustained through the unity of every dimensionless geometric point-centered process, atom, molecule, cell, embodied sensation, heartfelt feeling, mind-made insight, and idea. This is 'how and why' the truth-of-love frees us & "the world goes round", floating this Earth - as if it were weightless.

Gravity is the 'surge' of a dimensionless Void, re-uniting every point. Electromagnetism is the everlasting 'urge' of this same single field of forces - stretched between an infinite number of (0D) points - re-forming and communicating what is (radiantly) being received at every point.

Throughout all of clock-time and unbounded space, every process-centered-point of present-moment observation results in a spatiotemporal snapshot ('Selfie') of an indivisible infinity - adding to the mass, energy, and spatiotemporal extension of all minds and bodies.

We are effortlessly re-visiting and re-creating all that was, all that is, and ever will be.

Every one of us is driving 'the' exponential rate of this ever-accelerating-expansion.

As a force of Nature, we're formed into Spirited Beings - to re-invent our 'selves' in ever more optimal ways - to mirror-back the beauty we are bathing in - in "a pathless land" - to make love happen.
